

The SCHOOL FUNDING INTERIM COMMISSION WANTS TO HEAR FROM YOU!

The Commission charged with conducting a 10-year review of school funding in Montana has been tasked with examining the Montana educational system and instructional model as a whole prior to beginning its work on the funding formula. The Commission is relying on the National Center on Education and the Economy \(NCEE\) to facilitate this examination. To that end, NCEE will conduct “roadshows” around the state to share what the Commission is learning and gather input from teachers, parents, students, administrators, business leaders, and all interested parties, to consider how our educational system might be designed to ensure Montana’s young people are future ready.
